

18 January 1982

Dear PMAP Members:

The next meeting of the PMAP will take place as planned on 4-5 February at CIA Headquarters. A tentative agenda is attached.

A selection of recent intelligence reports pertaining to our current overall topic -- Soviet policy toward the Middle East -- has been assembled. These reports deal with the local political stability, Soviet activities, Soviet military capabilities, and current intelligence. During the next two weeks these reports are available to you at Headquarters

[redacted]

[redacted] Should you be unable to read these documents before our meeting, the agenda will allow reading time on the first day.

As we begin, I hope to table a short substantive memo to guide our work. If you have recommendations on the agenda or wish to schedule consultations with analysts on specific topics during our meeting, please call me [redacted] or Dick Lehman [redacted]

STAT

Please try to keep your plans for the cocktail-dinner hours on 4 February open. I am trying to arrange a dinner meeting between our panel and key policy officers responsible for Middle East affairs.
